Certified Organic Cotton Reusable Cloth Menstrual Pads

Sckoon Organic Cotton Cloth Menstrual Pads are made of 100% certified organic cotton with a built-in leak-proof sheet, which prevents accidents and keep you comfortable and worry free all day long! Among all the pads that claim organic cloth menstrual pads, our pads are the only pads made of certified organic cotton certified by an international certification board. Without the use of chemicals and bleaches that cause irritation, Sckoon Organic Cotton Cloth Menstrual Pads are 100% pure, comfortable, and safe. They are a healthy alternative to disposable menstrual pads, both for you and for the environment.

- Nickel free snaps to prevent allergic reactions
- Dyed with metal-free, low impact dyes
- Each holder comes with one liner
- Size 9 inch (23.5cm) long, 7.5 inch (19cm) wing-to-wing
- Liner size 7.5 x 7.5 inches (19cm x 19cm)
- 100% Egyptian organic cotton, made in Egypt

The Comfort Promise

Say goodbye to the sticky, sweaty feeling of disposable pads and hello to comfort. Sckoon pads feel like just another layer of super soft underwear, leaving you free to forget all about adhesives ruining your good lingerie or sticking to you and your clothing. Sckoon products snap easily into place and will not shift or move around, giving you reliability as well as ease of use.

Dyes, chemicals and pesticides? No thank you!

Sckoon Organic Cotton Pads are made of 100% certified organic Egyptian cotton, which is grown without harmful pesticides, hand picked and treated without the use of any chemicals, and certified by the International Certification Board, Demeter. Egyptian organic cotton is known worldwide as the most luxurious cotton available; with its extra-long fibers, it is incredibly soft, super-absorbent, breathable and durable. But we don't stop with the fabric at Sckoon. All our thread is 100% organic cotton too, and the snaps nickel-free to prevent allergic reactions.

Designed for your lifestyle

Unlike most cloth menstrual pads that require the user to change the entire pad when it feels wet, Sckoon Organic Cotton Pads allow a user to change just the liner and leave the holder in place. This is especially handy when you are traveling or are away from home for the day. All you have to carry are some clean liners, which will easily fit into your handbag, pocket or Sckoon's Leak-proof Pouch.

Customers like Samantha in Jacksonville, Florida rave about the ease of the liner. I love being able to just change the liner when needed rather than replacing the whole pad.

And others like the flexibility on lighter days. They are incredibly well-sewn and the unique design allows me to keep fresh with a simple refolding of the liner. -- Melissa, Oakland, CA

Color Me Pretty

Here at Sckoon we think something this soft and luxurious should be fun and pretty too. We offer lovely organic menstrual pads available in today's market in bright colors and exciting prints. Embrace your feminine side with a flowered print, a checkered design, or a sassy stripe. And they are worry free too. All dyes are low-impact, metal free, and environmentally friendly.

As Sckoon customer, Melissa in Oakland, CA, says, Thanks to Sckoon for an excellent quality washable pad that brings a bit of sunshine to an otherwise dreary period!!!

Make the switch and pocket the change

On average, a woman spends around RM20 per month on disposable pads, which can quickly add up. That is around RM240 per year. Multiply that by the six years that Sckoon Organic Cotton Pads can last and you are out RM1440. Most women who make the switch to Sckoon spend around RM345 in a start-up package, leaving you with a whole lot of cash in your pocket for something more fun.

Recommended start-up package includes 2 Mini, 4 Day Pads and 2 Night Pads.

How to Wear?

1. Sckoon Cloth Menstrual Pads come with 100% Organic Super-soft main pad & a liner (Night/Postpartum Pads come with two liners).
2. Place the Super-soft liner into the pockets - practical design allows you to change only liner part any time you like, not the entire pad.
3. The print side of Sckoon Menstrual Pads touches your underwear. Fold the wings over the crotch and close the snaps.
4. That is it. Sckoon provides you with a comfortable feeling all day long. You will feel the difference.

GladRags Color Day Pads

Available Colors & Prints:-
[Blue Dots/Pink Dots/Roses]

Brand Name: GladRags
Type: Pocket + Inserts Pads
Country of Origin: United States

Recommended For

- Medium to Heavy Flow

Pad's Structures

- 1 Holder
- 2 Inserts
- No nylon backing
- Approximately 9" (22.5cm) long and 2.5" (6cm) wide from the middle

Undyed Pads great for women with allergies or chemical sensitivities, the Organic Undyed Day Pads are a healthy alternative to disposable feminine protection.

GladRags holders are made out of comfortable cotton flannel fitted with a snap and "envelope" for the inserts. GladRags inserts consist of super-absorbent terry cloth and flannel for maximum protection. Lasting for years, GladRags are easy on your budget, while also using minimal resources.

The terry cloth makes them very absorbent, so there is no plastic or nylon insert in GladRags because GladRags are so absorbent! But just like disposable pads, they will leak or spill over if you leave them on too long. You will become familiar with just how long you can go before changing your pad. You should change your GladRags about as often as you would change disposables (every 2 to 6 hours, or as needed).

To Use GladRags Washable Menstrual Pads:-

1. Place 1 or 2 of the inserts inside the holder.

2. Turn your GladRags over. Snap it around your underwear. The tag side goes next to your underwear and the smooth side goes next to your body.
3. Change your GladRags(holder and inserts) about as often as you would change a disposable pad.

How to wear the pad?

How to fold the pad?

Washing instructions:

Rinse used pads with water or soaks in water and squeeze excess water from the pads. Washing directly after use is also possible. Wash pads by hand with soap or machine with other clothes and get dried by sunshine.

If you have difficulty in washing pads immediately after use, soak pads in lukewarm water until the next laundry.

Putting soap or detergent into the soaking water will also help it.

The water in the container should be changed once a day.

Sunshine is the natural resources to prevent bacteria growing and has disinfection effect.

Sundry is highly recommended than using the dryer as it contributes to the long lasting effect of the pad. A drier can be used otherwise.

After using the pad, use lukewarm water or cold water (cold water is highly recommended) to remove blood.

At the end of the washing process, hot water (hot water will set stains on the pad if the blood has not removed completely) can also be used if preferred.

Tips:

- The blood coagulates (transformed from a liquid into a soft semisolid or solid mass) in higher temperature than our body, so don't use hot water.
- Don't use softener, as the surface will be coated and will not absorb properly.
- Line dry is recommended for maintaining non-leakage effect. Don't use iron and dryer.

Notes on the Blood-Transmitted Diseases

Menstrual Blood will be able to transmit some diseases.

- Don't share your pads with others and wash your pads by yourself.
- Wash separately from other persons' laundry.
- Don't wash your pads in public place.
